AN ATTEMPTED ROBBERY OF RICH PROPERTY

MIDNIGHT MARAUDERS DRIVEN AWAY FROM ADAMSON-TURNER MINE.

What may have been an attempt by robbers to reach the rich slopes of the famous Adamson-Turner mine at Resali, or which, on the other hand, may have been only a foolish attempt to "jump" the rich property was made shortly after midnight yesterday morning. If robbery was the motive of the marauders their plans were frustrated, as they were driven off by a shot from a rifle, and the bullet is believed to have come very close to the mark.

Foiled in what may have been an attempt to reach the inner workings of the mine, where there are no men working at night, and in which high-grade ore is showing in a number of places in the slopes, the midnight marauders placed location notices on the main outcrop just above what is known as No. 1 tunnel, the portal of which is secured by a heavy door that is kept locked at night. The placing of the notices on the property, if the attempt made was to "jump" the mine, is a huge joke for there are ten men working there at the present time and there has been at least $10,000 expended in development work on it since February 1.

Whatever the intent of the marauders they have introduced a new feature into the mining game in Humboldt county, that is producing ore in a number of places to which that mine holdups have become almost a common occurrence.

A short time after midnight yesterday morning the watch dogs at the Adamson-Turner property aroused the miners by their loud barks and growling, giving the alarm that there were intruders at the upper workings. Three persons were seen, and it was then that the shot was fired. Shortly after the occurrence a lot of tools were found where the party had left them in their hurried flight from the diggings.

SUDDEN DEATH OF AN ALABAMA WOMAN IN RENO

MRS. PAULA KAUFMAN PASSES AWAY IN WAITING ROOM AT THE LOCAL DEPOT.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7.—Death came almost without warning yesterday morning to Mrs. Paula Simon Kaufman. The lady was seated in the waiting room at the Southern Pacific depot, awaiting the arrival of train No. 5, on which she intended to journey to San Francisco. Her two sons, E. I. Simon and Frank B. Simon, were seated on either side. The tickets for the three had been purchased and the train was whistling for the depot when the old lady leaned back with a look of mortal anguish on her face.

Dr. Samuels, the railroad physician, was at hand and he administered hypodermic heart stimulants, but it was without avail, and in a few minutes she was dead, though conscious to the last.

It was pitiful to see the love and sorrow in the face of the two young men who had supported their old mother from the carriage to the waiting room and who were planning to take her to a lower altitude in order that her heart might not yield to the altitude.

INSURING REGISTERED MAIL.

The postmaster general has issued an order informing the general public that under the act of congress of March 4, 1911, sends of third and fourth-class registered matter addressed to postoffices in the United States, lost in mails, may be indemnified to an amount not to exceed $25 for each registered package. Heretofore only the sender of first-class registered matter was reimbursed to the extent of $50, but this insurance feature of the law is now made to apply to third and fourth-class registered matter which will insure better protection to the sender of packages than heretofore. This is said to be a step looking to the final establishment of a parcels post system.

BRIBERY IN THE LEGISLATURE OF STATE OF OHIO

OHIO SOLON CONFESSES THAT HE KNOWS OF CROOKEDNESS IN LEGISLATURE.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 6.—The Plain Dealer says: "Rodney Diegle has broken his silence. In a lengthy story to B. F. Allen, the paper's correspondent at Washington, Diegle made a clean breast of bribery in the Ohio legislature.

The convicted sergeant-at-arms told a story, sketched in its many details, of a trail of bribery leading to the doors of many members of the general assembly. It was a story extending from the offices and places of business of the successful lawyer, merchant and manufacturer to the low dives of Columbus.

The confession, however, which was laid before the prosecuting attorneys, does not satisfy them. They insist Diegle knows more than he has told, and will get tell all."
